12 ORDER

13 Defendant.

14 On June 8, 2009, this Court denied petitioner's Motion for an Emergency Writ of Mandamus

15 (#1). Petitioner had asked the Court, in a 142-page Petition, for a trial by jury to overturn his 16 conviction for a traffic offense in the Las Vegas Municipal Court. The Court denied the Petition due
17 to lack of federal subject matter jurisdiction. The Court denied Petitioner's motions to reconsider
18 on November 15, 2010. (#47). These motions consisted of eschatological rantings, invoking various 19 historical figures and events.

20 Plaintiff now brings the instant motion, which is likewise incoherent. The entirety of the 21 motion consists of handwritten notes entitled "Emergency Petition." The content of this note is as 22 follows:

23 The Honorable Court:

24 My text for the docket has disappeared from my control. I will be retyping (66
25 pages) when I am able . . . [sic] My word is my bond and I aver to the truth of this document.

Notary

1 (Motion, #47). The motion is notarized. It appears that the petitioner is asking the Court to rule on
2 a motion which is not even submitted for the Court's consideration. It is completely unclear what
3 the motion by Petitioner is attempting to accomplish and does not appear to be properly before this
4 Court. In addition, the Court still lacks jurisdiction.

5 CONCLUSION

6 IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that Petitioner's Motion to Dismiss Notice to Pay Rent or 7 Quit (#47) is DENIED.

8 DATED: This 16th day of April, 2010.
